Budget Request Summary

COIL is asking for $6 million for fiscal 2024, reflecting no increase over the enacted funding level for fiscal 2023.

TOTAL PROJECTED AVAILABLE $6,447,773

Contracts/Embassy/Other Agreements 2,080,000

Grants/Other Program Costs 2,900,000

Salary/Benefits 948,500

Subtotal: Less Direct Program Costs $ 5,928,500

Salary/Benefits 406,500

All Other Operating Expenses 70,000

Subtotal: Less Administrative Costs $ 476,500

TOTAL PROJECTED COSTS $ 6,405,000

PROJECTED BALANCE 42,773

Overhead Rate 7.4%

NOTE: Unanticipated interagency transfers and other offsets will cover the amount over $6.0 million shown here.

COIL spends its appropriation in two categories: Direct Program Costs and Administration Costs. Direct Program Costs include a logistical coordinator contract; grants to host organizations across the United States; Memoranda of Agreements with most U.S. embassies in Open World countries; and about 70% of the salary and benefits of COIL staff. Grants/Other Hosting Costs refer to national and local hosting organizations (such as Rotary Club, Friendship Force International, and community colleges) that plan and execute an 8-day local program for each delegation as well as a logistical services contract.

The Administrative category includes an interagency agreement with the Library of Congress for infrastructure services; small contracts for professional services; postage, telephone, cell phones; equipment and software; and office supplies and materials. COIL benefits from lower administrative costs due to its physical location in the Library of Congress.

Request for Administrative Provisions

COIL respectfully requests the following:

To strike the following: [Provided, That funds made available to support Russian participants shall only be used for those engaging in free market development, humanitarian activities, and civic engagement, and shall not be used for officials of the central government of Russia].

Justification: This language was inserted by Congress as a reaction to Russia's invasion of Crimea several years ago. The proviso conveys a misleading message relating to the use of COIL's appropriations and is out of date. In light of current circumstances, COIL has temporarily suspended its Russia program entirely. In any case, COIL's authority specifies participation by emerging political and civic leaders and cultural leaders; therefore, historically it has not included participation by Russian central government officials.

To add the following: SEC. XXX. PARITY FOR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR. – Section 313 of the Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, 2011 (2 U.S.C. 1151), as amended by section 150 of the Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, 2022 is amended – at subsection (d) to add at the end of the paragraph: “The Board may establish such policies as may be necessary to ensure that awards, incentives, and leave accrual for the Executive Director is at least equal to those provided to executive branch employees appointed pursuant to subchapter II of chapter 31 of title 5, United States Code.” Justification: Pursuant to 2 USC 1151(d), the Librarian of Congress appoints the Executive Director (ED) of COIL, who serves as the chief executive of the agency, but whose pay is administratively determined by the COIL Board of Trustees. While the original intent was to attract former members of the Foreign Service who would continue to be covered by foreign service-related personnel authorities, changes in federal personnel laws since the inception of COIL impose hurdles to that approach. The result is that an ED who is not a former Foreign Service officer is covered by leave, benefit, and incentive authorities applicable to administratively determined personnel, which are not comparable to senior level, senior executive service, or executive level positions. Of specific note at present is a disparity in the leave accrual and carryover for the ED as compared to other agency executives. COIL requests parity in this and other areas for the ED. The language makes use of draft language previously circulated to other legislative branch agencies for potential consistency across the legislative branch that would establish parity among various legislative branch executives and the senior executive service.

“If you’re interested in a free Poland, then you are interested in what happens between Russia and Ukraine today. If you’re interested in a free Pacific and a Taiwan that gets to make their own decisions and have their own elections and chart their own course, then you’re interested in what happens this month in Ukraine. If you are interested in preventing a humanitarian disaster, a massive refugee crisis, not only in Eastern Europe, but one that spills over to Western Europe, then you’re interested in what happens and in the ability of the Ukrainian people and their freely elected leadership to defend themselves. This goes way beyond Kyiv and affects us right here in our cozy little capital in Washington, D.C.”

Congressional Office for International Leadership Fiscal 2024 Budget Request

The Congressional Office for International Leadership (COIL) respectfully requests that its fiscal 2024 appropriation remain at the fiscal 2023 appropriation level of $6.0 million. This level will provide continued support for the administration of the Open World program.

<sup>1</sup> At the time of compiling the fiscal 2023 Operating Plan, COIL did not know the status of these USAID transfers. All of the transfers were completed in the final weeks of the fiscal year and were obligated accordingly.

<sup>3</sup> In order to save money, COIL purchases services for food and accommodation directly from the vendors. Under the logistical contract, these costs were previously subject to a 17% indirect charge.

<sup>4</sup> All USAID transfers are obligated/liquidated for program expenses only, except where administrative/overhead costs are added specifically by country.

Level funding in fiscal 2024 will allow COIL to continue to support and expand its work in Ukraine and throughout Eurasia as the region braces for more aggression from Russia. All Open World participating countries benefit from robust civil society programming and an emphasis on parliamentary exchanges that illustrate the importance of legislation in all aspects of life. Altogether, COIL will maintain its strong and trusted presence in the region and will continue to engage a network of nearly 30,000 alumni.

Overview of the Congressional Office for International Leadership

The United States Congress authorized the Open World program (then called the Russian Leadership Program) as a pilot project in 1999 as a result of discussions between then Librarian of Congress, Dr. James H. Billington, and a bicameral and bipartisan group of Members of Congress. The program focused on the question of how to increase mutual understanding between Russia and the United States, and to support Russia's democratization efforts. In December 2000, the success of the Russian Leadership pilot program and the continued importance of its mission led Congress, through the leadership of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, to establish a permanent, independent entity in the Legislative Branch to administer the program: the Open World Leadership Center, now renamed as the Congressional Office for International Leadership.

COIL conducts the Open World program, one of the most effective U.S. exchange programs in these countries.<sup>1</sup> Participation in the program has enabled more than 30,000 young global leaders to engage in and interact with Members of Congress, Congressional staff, and thousands of other Americans, many of whom are the delegates' direct professional counterparts. The Open World program focuses on assisting Congress with its oversight responsibilities. Exchanges that establish and foster lasting professional relationships between the political and civic leaders of Open World program countries and Americans throughout the United States provide an opportunity to showcase U.S. values and democratic institutions. Furthermore, COIL's bipartisan support and independence from the priorities of the executive branch lend the program significant credibility. The Open World program also features homestays so that these leaders live in the homes of American families in nearly 3,000 communities in all 50 states and learn about community life and the volunteer ethic.

The highly regarded Open World program has played a vital role in the political landscapes of participating Eurasian countries. COIL has brought emerging leaders who have risen to senior positions in government, in the private sector, and in civil society organizations in the communities in which they live as well as in the international arena. COIL has built substantial expertise in conducting exchange programs tailored to support the Legislative Branch. As it embarks on its third decade, COIL continues to strive for excellence in providing relevant thematic, informative, and timely programs for foreign legislators and the best and brightest young professionals in Open World countries.

Program Objectives

COIL is committed to a strategy to support Congress and its international outreach and oversight functions by creating opportunities for Members and their staff to meet with civic and political leaders from strategically important countries. To that end, COIL continues to focus its programming on a geographically and professionally broad cross-section of young leaders who might not otherwise have the opportunity to visit the United States and to witness not only how our communities work but also how legislative bodies serve their citizens.

Over the life of the program, more than 11,370 federal, regional, and local government officials have participated, including 821 Members of Parliament and Parliamentary Staff; 3,760 regional legislators and staff; and 4,483 judges and judicial/legal professionals.

In the 2022 program year:

- The average age of Open World participants was 37 with 23% of the participants age 30 and under.
- At least 8% of all participants were national and regional legislators and staff.
- A total of 379 government officials participated in the program.

Interest in the Open World program remains robust within American hosting communities. The demand for hosting Open World delegations is more than triple the supply of available slots annually due to capacity and funding limitations. A large and dedicated group of American citizens who live in state capitals, cities, small towns, and rural communities throughout the United States are eager to open their homes and hearts to these young leaders. The mutually enriching experience of Open World programming facilitates international cooperation and bridge-building at a deep and broad level, enlisting and empowering the American citizen diplomat.

The Open World Program in 2022

Program year 2022 was a pivotal year for the Open World program as two major events took place: first, international travel resumed to pre-pandemic levels allowing COIL to reschedule programs previously postponed due to COVID. At least 24 delegations (136 delegates and facilitators) traveled in 2022 following their virtual participation previously. Furthermore, 2022 saw COIL expanding its programming to some 19 new host communities and courts in 13 states. (See Tab C for a full list of grantees, host organizations and state/federal judges by state.) In total, COIL hosted 175 in-person Open World groups comprising 883 delegates in 76 communities in 38 states. These delegations came from Armenia, Azerbaijan, Estonia, Georgia, Hungary, Kazakhstan, Kosovo, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova, Mongolia, North Macedonia, Papua New Guinea, Poland, Romania, Serbia, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine, Uzbekistan, and Vietnam.

Second, and more significantly, Russia invaded Ukraine for a second time since 2014 in an unprovoked war of aggression. In response, COIL indefinitely suspended its Russian programming. This suspension had multiple effects, such as creating capacity in program year 2022 for expansion in other Open World countries as well as re-programming resources for maximum impact and minimal disruption. Russian programming had constituted one-third of all COIL programming, so, following the lead of Congress, COIL rapidly expanded its Ukrainian programming, allowing Members of Congress direct access to Ukrainian Members of Parliament, doctors, veterans, and active-duty soldiers. As a result, at least 50 Members of Congress met with Ukrainian Members of Parliament in 2022. In the United States, Ukrainian delegates were able to share battle map information; gain knowledge of blood transfusion and burn treatment techniques from American doctors; consult with the Department of Veterans Affairs about veterans' care; and provide personal experience about the ground conditions in Ukraine. COIL also dedicated programs to "helping the helpers" in Moldova, Poland, and Romania, countries that have been generously accommodating Ukrainian refugees. These programs emphasized mental health counseling, second-language teaching, and NGO development.

COIL simultaneously began its expansion into the Indo-Pacific at the bipartisan request of Members of Congress and followed by approval from the Board of Trustees starting with delegations from Papua New Guinea and Vietnam. These inaugural parliamentary groups ushered in COIL's first Indo-Pacific programming, which will expand even more in 2023. With the addition of the Indo-Pacific, COIL has evolved beyond its traditional post-Soviet, Eurasian focus to become a model agency with global programming.

Calendar Year 2022 Statistics & 2023 Plans

The following country and regional programs were selected for the particularly challenging circumstances taking place at the current time. In an environment of ever shifting geopolitical landscapes, we are paying strong attention to the following:

Ukraine

The outstanding initiative for COIL in 2023 is to highlight anti-corruption and financial accountability as a subtheme in every program for Ukrainians participating this year. COIL has an ambitious plan to host some 360 Ukrainians at this time of war with the goals of improving the lives of our Ukrainian colleagues, ensuring accountability and transparency in all aspects of U.S. assistance, and preparing to rebuild a better Ukraine when the war is over.

From 2003 through the end of 2022, COIL hosted 4,281 leaders from all regions of Ukraine, including those displaced from Crimea and the occupied territories of Eastern Ukraine. At this critical time, COIL's Ukraine programming is focused on providing firsthand information and intelligence to Congress and other stakeholders from the front lines of Ukraine's battle against Russian aggression. In the past year, COIL made extraordinary efforts to host three delegations of Parliamentarians from Ukraine (12 participants), two special high-level delegations aimed at facilitating humanitarian assistance (7 participants), and another twenty-six delegations (155 participants) of veterans and those that are serving the needs of veterans, government agencies and civil society representatives. These delegations all focused on the tasks needed to build a new Ukraine once this horrific war has ended.

COIL's Ukraine parliamentary programming provided Ukrainian MPs, two of whom also serve on Special Forces and joined the programming directly from the front lines of the war, the ability to provide Members of Congress with their insights and needs during this time of crisis. These delegations, including both majority and opposition leaders, provided key firsthand information to U.S. lawmakers, think tanks and others engaged in Ukraine policy. These programs regularly engaged the Ukrainian Caucuses in the House and Senate, the House Democracy Partnership, The Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe (Helsinki Commission), the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and the delegations attended and were recognized at several Congressional hearings. More than 60 Members of Congress met with the Parliamentarians from Ukraine that participated in the Open World program in 2022.

COIL is proud of its efforts to support more than 250 current and future Ukrainian leaders with specialized war-related programming since the inception of Russia's brutal war against Ukraine in 2014 (a time period that saw the participation of some 2,000 Ukrainians on Open World). This activity has resulted in a new State Department/Veterans Administration U.S.-Ukraine initiative to support the healthcare and rehabilitation of Ukraine's combat veterans. The first program under this initiative was a health sector exchange with Ukrainian specialists focused on the health of Ukraine's growing population of veterans. To launch this program a Deputy Minister of Veterans Affairs from Ukraine led a delegation of eight veteran medical healthcare specialists to Washington for consultations with policymakers. This delegation then traveled to Tampa, Florida, for a week of hands-on expert instruction in treatment protocols in trauma, rehabilitation, and mental health at one of the VA's premier polytrauma centers. This program was a collaborative effort between the Congressional Office for International Leadership and the Department of State, the Department of Veterans Affairs, and the Government of Ukraine.

COIL is prepared to continue this initiative into 2023, and has planned several delegations to further these and other critical partnerships.

The Caucasus (Armenia, Azerbaijan, and Georgia)

COIL has implemented programs for the three conflict-ridden and strategically important countries of the Caucasus since 2007. More than 1,350 delegates from those countries have participated in impactful and successful Open World programs. In close and regular consultation with the U.S. Missions, COIL is currently planning to host 156 participants from this region in 2023: 30 from Armenia, 54 from Azerbaijan, and 72 from Georgia.

Program planning is underway for regional groups from the Caucasus. Specifically, COIL's programs will address the complications caused by the ongoing and historic tensions between Armenia and Azerbaijan centering on the frozen conflict in Nagorno-Karabakh and other geopolitical and cultural/religious issues. Consultations with Members of the U.S. Congress and principles in the State Department have indicated the need for such programming to ameliorate the tensions in the region.

COIL's program for Armenia, initiated in 2011, has included 205 participants. In 2022, seven delegations from Armenia participated in the Open World program focusing on Members of Parliament, Podcasting and Online Media, Museum Management to Foster Economic Development, Rule of Law, Combatting Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault, Think Tank Specialists, and Education. The Parliamentary delegation was successful in jump-starting a strong relationship between the Congressional Caucus on Armenian Issues and their colleagues in the Armenian Parliament.

COIL's program in Azerbaijan was initiated in 2007 and nearly 400 participants from Azerbaijan have participated in the Open World program to date. In addition, in 2022, COIL hosted its first parliamentary delegation from Azerbaijan. This was an opportunity for Members of Parliament to meet their counterparts in the U.S. Congress and engage with the Congressional Azerbaijan Caucus.

COIL's Open World program in Georgia was also initiated in 2007 with a total of 802 participants to date. In 2022, a time of great internal struggle in the political realm in Georgia between leading parties (with elections disputes), and between the government and the people of Georgia, Open World programming focused on governance and development of Georgia, from its national parks and other treasures to urban planning and inclusivity issues.

Lastly, illustrating the long-term impact of the Open World program, a program alumna from Georgia has just received the Annual Global Human Rights Defender Award from the U.S. State Department. This former Public Defender of Georgia received this prestigious award for heading the most independent democratic institution in Georgia. Throughout her tenure, she worked to strengthen human rights protections for all, at times under intense political pressure, maintaining their independence throughout. Her work to fight discrimination, and to defend the rights of children, people with disabilities, prisoners, LGBTQI+ persons, and members of religious minorities, without regard to political affiliation, has furthered the development of a democratic state that promises to live up to the Euro-Atlantic aspirations of its citizens.

COIL programming throughout the Caucasus is aimed at promoting political stability, freedom of information, inclusivity, and good governance. Furthermore, COIL informs the U.S. Congress and their constituents about the issues of this strategically important region that struggles with historic animosities and is now impacted enormously by Russia's war against Ukraine.

Helping the Helpers in Poland, Romania, and Moldova

As the world watched the unprovoked Russian invasion of Ukraine, broad networks of volunteers in the bordering countries and beyond responded to the waves of refugees, mostly women and children, pouring over their borders. Both American and European NGOs provided a burst of critical assistance, but these goods and services began to wane by late spring. The NGOs and aid workers of Moldova, Poland, and Romania were looking to turn their crisis work into sustainable humanitarian missions to serve their communities who were sacrificing their own financial security in order to provide shelter and services to Ukrainians in need. COIL responded to the humanitarian crises unfolding in Moldova, Poland, and Romania by filling the programming vacuum (due to the suspension of the Russia program) with an initial eight delegations, equipping civic leaders and educators with resources and training to help them better respond to the cross-border human catastrophe caused by the invasion.

COIL's Helping the Helpers program features delegations from Poland, Moldova, and Romania on the themes of second-language curriculum, access to mental health services, and integrating refugees. These programs are aimed at responding to the increased need, and were greatly appreciated by the delegations. The initiative has also provided crucial support to the aid workers in each of its 24 delegations in 2022, and through this exchange, improved their ability to carry out their mission to Ukrainians fleeing violence. To date, 144 delegates have participated in the Helping the Helpers program, with encouraging results upon return to their homeland.

In the 2023 program year, COIL will continue with "Helping the Helpers" by providing auxiliary support in the effort to mitigate the consequences of the Russian invasion. The calamitous nature of the original refugee surge has abated, but the Ukrainian diaspora created by the conflict will continue to need expert support to stabilize and integrate going forward. In 2023, COIL programming reflects a broader scope of themes to assist with less emergent but nevertheless critical efforts to provide continued support.

The governments and people of Moldova, Poland, and Romania have spoken: Ukraine matters. It matters greatly to them because what happens in Ukraine during this crisis inflicted by Russia directly affects their sovereignty, safety, and future. COIL commends Congress for supporting this initiative to provide networking and peer-to-peer exchanges for the concerned and giving citizens of Ukraine's border countries.

The Indo-Pacific Inaugural Program

As a response to a bi-partisan request and with approval from its Board of Trustees, COIL launched its Indo-Pacific program in late 2022. The Open World program is uniquely positioned to foster new networks of mutual understanding in the Indo-Pacific – a region critical to the future of U.S. national security.

Papua New Guinea and Vietnam were the first Indo-Pacific countries to participate in the Open World program. The groups, comprised of Members of Parliament, arrived in Washington on December 5, 2022. After two days of programming tailored to regional issues, the delegations traveled to their host communities in Norfolk, VA and Burlington, VT. Yet 2022 was only the beginning for the Indo-Pacific arm of the Open World program. In 2023, COIL plans to bring parliamentary delegations from Papua New Guinea, Vietnam, and for the first time, Indonesia. Creating strong programs with these countries that lead to a vibrant community of alumni across the region is crucial in supporting U.S. attempts to counter Chinese influence.

The Open World program's greatest strength has always been its universal applicability. The principles of peer-to-peer engagement and citizen diplomacy have worked across myriad countries in COIL's history, despite the vast differences in politics, religion, and values of participants. The best practices and ideas delegates glean while in the U.S. inspire partnerships and projects with Americans. Their intense experience living among Americans will help them scrutinize Chinese misinformation with a critical eye. As the Indo-Pacific continues to face the strain of China's policies, now is the time to utilize the Open World program to create networks of young leaders who have experienced the U.S. at the community level.

Review of the Fiscal Year 2024 Budget Request

COIL's Budget Request of $6.0 million for fiscal year 2024 reflects no increase over fiscal year 2023 enacted funding.

COIL seeks every opportunity to capture any possible reductions or savings in costs. For example, COIL works closely with grantees to find volunteer hosting organizations and requires cost-sharing in every grant proposal. The staff also conducts periodic reviews with its logistical contractor to find the best airfares, to keep staff costs at a minimum, and to find savings wherever possible.

COIL spends its appropriation in two categories: Direct Program Costs and Administration Costs. Direct Program Costs include a logistical coordinator contract; grants to host organizations across the United States and interpretation services; Memoranda of Agreements with U.S. embassies in Open World countries; and about 70% of the salary and benefits of COIL's staff. The logistical services contract with a Washington-based NGO is COIL's single largest expenditure. This contractor coordinates the delegate nomination and vetting process in about half of our participating countries – Azerbaijan, Estonia, Georgia, Moldova, Poland, Romania, Serbia, Ukraine, and Uzbekistan – and is tasked with obtaining visas and other travel documents; arranging and purchasing airfare and accommodations; planning and executing the two-day D.C. orientation; coordinating with grantees; placing delegates in American host cities; and, assigning program facilitators, among other duties. Since COIL began working directly with more U.S. embassies in participating countries in 2013, the contract cost has decreased. This has resulted in significantly reduced costs per person. Grants/Other Hosting Costs refer to national and local hosting organizations (such as Rotary International, Friendship Force International, and local hosting organizations throughout the country) that plan and execute an 8-day local program for each delegation.

A portion of the salaries/benefits of the Executive Director and the Deputy Executive Director are included under Administration Costs. These costs also include an interagency agreement with the Library of Congress for infrastructure services; small contracts for professional services; micro-purchases for postage, telephones, cell phones; and office supplies and materials. COIL benefits from lower administrative costs due to its physical location in the Library of Congress. Finally, agreements with other agencies for infrastructure services or for printing, webhosting, and graphic design are also included. Below is a summary table:

Summary of Costs by Category

TOTAL PROJECTED AVAILABLE $6,447,773

Contracts/Embassy/Other Agreements 2,080,000

Grants/Other Program Costs 2,900,000

Salary/Benefits 948,500

Subtotal: Less Direct Program Costs $ 5,928,500

Salary/Benefits 406,500

All Other Operating Expenses 70,000

Subtotal: Less Administrative Costs $ 476,500

TOTAL PROJECTED COSTS $ 6,405,000

PROJECTED BALANCE 42,773

Overhead Rate 7.4%

The staff at COIL carefully monitor all aspects of the program and perform ongoing reviews of the processes associated with the programming. COIL’s staff works to continue the trend of reducing participant cost per appropriated dollar; to adjust strategies to bring legislators as a significant portion of our delegates; to select the highest qualified candidates; to make the programs highly relevant by coordinating with host organizations in all fifty states; and to foster partnerships and projects involving alumni and hosts. In each of these efforts, COIL never compromises quality.

Major support for the Open World program comes from the dedicated and enthusiastic American citizens who voluntarily host program participants in their homes and communities. These volunteers organize social events, community-wide activities, housing, and meals for one week. Without this in-kind support, the cost of hosting the Open World program’s 30,000 participants would be substantially higher.

Conclusion

Before closing this justification for COIL's fiscal year 2024 justification, it is necessary to address the former Russia program. Despite COIL's efforts to maintain an open and active exchange with Russian delegates, the Russian government aggressively and without provocation invaded Ukraine for a second time since 2014. In response, COIL indefinitely suspended its Russia program. Because the scope of the agency has expanded in its 23 years, the Open World program's model has proven to be adaptable and effective in countries outside of its original Eurasian focus. COIL now stands as a global, model agency with both Eurasian and Indo-Pacific programming designed to facilitate Congressional and citizen diplomacy between Congress, constituents, and international political and civic leaders.

COIL is an asset, a resource, and an investment of the U.S. Congress. Modeling accountable governance, strengthening civil society, and advancing rule of law worldwide are long-term strategic goals for our nation's security and serve as a crucial source of international influence and strength. Like Congress itself, COIL's resolve is unshaken even in the face of massive geopolitical crises. A better future for relations in Eurasia and the Indo-Pacific requires an unwavering dedication to enduring principles, ideals, and goals.

In sum, COIL's support for Ukraine and neighboring countries is critical to bolstering U.S. allies and partners in the region. COIL themes for Ukrainian delegations focused on medical practice and veterans' affairs reflects a non-military U.S. contribution to the war effort. New programming on refugee integration and mental health counseling will help to stave off compassion fatigue in communities across Moldova, Poland, and Romania, which have generously taken in Ukrainians displaced by the war. The Caucasus remain particularly relevant to American interests, making COIL support for civil society actors and organizations critical to fostering stronger U.S. relationships in Armenia, Azerbaijan, and Georgia. Finally, as Congress increasingly focuses attention on the Indo-Pacific as a strategic region, COIL programming with Indo-Pacific countries will build and maintain relationships between Members of Congress and Indo-Pacific government and civic representatives.

To that end, Congressional leadership in supporting the Open World program is paramount to COIL's continued success.
